

Direct Access Approach to Lumbo-Pelvic Dysfunction

Course Description

This course will provide attendees with a three stage approach to evaluation, differential diagnosis and treatment of lumbo-pelvic dysfunction with a direct access emphasis.

Objectives

- Be able to understand sources of pathology outside of the musculoskeletal system
- Determine appropriateness of patient for physical therapy intervention
- Understand and differentiate the regions of the lumbo-pelvic spine and potential sources of spinal dysfunction
- Establish an appropriate somatic diagnosis and manual therapy intervention
- Plan and prescribe an appropriate stabilization protocol

CCU's: TPTA- This course has been approved for 1.5 CCU's • ELIGIBILITY: PT

COST: $350 Early Bird (by 2/10/2012) • $370 Regular Price

PRESENTED BY: Deepak Sebastian, PT, MHS, MTC, DPT, ND, PhD, OCS, FAAOMPT

Direct Access Approach to Lumbo-Pelvic Dysfunction

Sat - Sun • March 10 - 11, 2012

University Hospital

Reeves Rehabilitation classroom (3rd Floor)
4502 Medical Drive, San Antonio, TX 78229

For registration information scan with your smart phone, or visit ReevesRehab.com/cep

University Health System

Reeves
Rehabilitation
Center